About the Author

Siglind Bruhn, born in Hamburg, Germany, is a musicologist, concert pianist, and interdisciplinary researcher. Since 1993, having resigned from university teaching to dedicate herself fully to research and writing, she has lived in Ann Arbor, affiliated with the University of Michigan as a Life Research Associate at the Institute for the Humanities.

She is the single author of nine books. These include, most recently, Images and Ideas in Modern French Piano Music: The Extra-musical Subtext in Piano Works by Debussy, Ravel, and Messiaen (Pendragon, 1997), Musikalische Symbolik in Oliver Messiaens Weihnachtsvignetten (Peter Lang, 1997), and The Temptation of Paul Hindemith: MATHIS DER MALER as a Spiritual Testimony (Pendragon, 1998) Furthermore, she has edited and co-authored three issues of an international, interdisciplinary journal as well as three collections of scholarly essays; the latter are, Encrypted Messages in Alban Berg's Music (Garland, 1998), Messiaen's Language of Mystical Love (Garland, 1998), and Signs in Musical Hermeneutics (special issue 1996/1-4 of The American Journal of Semiotics).
